Pacifists Present Plan For Ending World Militarism

Faculter Munroe, Guest Keisler
Warn Against Propaganda,
Over-Armament

By Doris MacDonald

Culminating in the reading of a resolution presented by the American Student Union and the International Relations Club, San Francisco State students united Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in a Peace Rally as a part of the international collegiate movement against war.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mr. Evan R. Keisler, a regional director of the youth division of the Emergency Peace Campaign, who was introduced by Student-body President Ed Cockrum.

"The idea of peace is very popular in America and other parts of the world today," said Mr. Keisler in his address, but he reminded his listeners that just prior to the World War, it was almost fully as popular. He acknowledged that propaganda was of course responsible for this change in sentiment, but cautioned that future war sentiment will be created by a cleverly veiled replica of the slogans used in 1917.

"The cry which aroused much of the American public was 'Make the world safe for Democracy,'" he continued, "tomorrow it may be a cry against the dangers of Fascism or the Yellow Peril."

Quoting Chester H. Rowell's declaration that there is little danger of the United States being invaded, Mr. Keisler insisted that the majority of peace groups are not opposed to national armament but agree that it should be limited to facilities for the defence of the immediate shores of the country from invasion.

The importance of the mobilization of student sentiment and action was stressed in order to achieve any degree of success.

Mrs. Bertha H. Monroe, in a speech presented later in the program, urged as did Mr. Keisler, the importance of the bill regarding compulsory military training in state colleges which is before the legislature at Sacramento now. Students opposed to this regulation were advised to write immediately to their representatives at the Capitol.

"We all want peace," said Mrs. Monroe, "but we go on piling up armaments because we are laboring under the illusion that there is an unknown aggressor lurking around the corner." Continuing, she reminded the group, "No matter who wins, we all lose." Recognizing this fact, the stupidity of war as a means of settling disputes was emphasized.

A pledge against war was read by Ed Cockrum and is to be submitted to the consideration of the student-body at the Campaign Rally, Monday, April 26th.

Paddling to be Featured Alpha Phi Gamma Hell Day

Dodging the paddles of Alpha Phi Gamma torturers and, at the same time, obtaining their signatures, are among the major feats expected of pledges to Alpha Gamma chapter Friday, April 23.

Louise Vallarino, Lou Morris, Jim Martin and Roy Laugesen comprise the pledges who will participate in the "Hell Day" exercises which will include the entertainment of Alpha Phi Gamma members in room 12A during the noon hour. The usual costume of newspaper caps, printed shirts and large cardboard keys will be worn.

Following these informal initiatory rites, a formal pledge ceremony will be conducted at the home of Ciwa Griffiths at 44 Majestic Street. In charge will be Bob Barry, Stanley Sieber and Bob Chamberlin, who is to be chairman of "Hell Day" as well.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies a short business meeting will be held.

Veteran Professor Will Lecture Here

Dr. Harry Lanz, professor of Slavic languages and literature at Stanford University for the past twenty years, and a lecturer of note, will speak on "Slavic Heritages in American Culture" next Monday night, April 26, at seven o'clock, at the Frederic Burk auditorium. Dr. Lanz took his Ph. D. degree at the University of Heidelberg, Germany. According to Mr. Gleb Ilyin, Dr. Lanz is the best authority on matters pertaining to Slavic culture available in the Bay Region.

Mr. Ilyin, introducer of the speaker, is a portrait painter. He graduated at the Imperial University of Art, Petrograd, Russia, in 1917, just before the revolution.

Admission to the lecture is free, and everybody is invited to attend.

Post Session Opens August 2, 4 Units

Post session opens August 2 and continues until August 21. Students may carry not more than four units of academic or professional work. No activity courses will be offered in this session. Miss Vance urges attention to the matter before August 2 as it is held only if a sufficient number of students sign up to warrant its existence. Classes will be held for 75 minutes daily, six days per week, and all classes will carry 2 units of credit. A rich offering of courses has been planned under the direction of Dean P. F. Valentine. By attending both, one may raise one's standing 10 units and erase that navy blue page on your record.

Phi Lambda Chi Sponsors Dance

Phi Lambda Chi sorority will hold its second annual semi-formal dance tomorrow night at the Residence Club, 940 Powell Street. Starting at 9:00 p.m. guests will dance to the music of Joe Rosen's Enchanters.

The dance is being given both in honor of the pledges to the club and the outgoing senior members. Among the pledges being honored are: Freda Christiansen, Hazel Smith, Frances Flagg, Betty Zech, Sarita Canedo, Nola Keller, Eleanor Emerick and Florence Verberg.

Harriet White, president of Phi Lambda Chi, announces, "Bids for the dance are limited to one hundred. Although most of them have been sold, there are still a few to be secured today in the main corridor of College Hall."

Edith E. White is serving as chairman. She is being assisted by Dawn Wilson, Kay Bailey, Betty Lindstrom, Shirley Dickieson, Marguerite Bellis.

The programs are to be carried out in the club colors. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Neiderhaus will serve as sponsors of the dance.

Raw Material For Your Dope Sheets

Culminating an extensive week of baby kissing and cigar passing the Campaign Rally will be held at 11 o'clock Monday in the Women's Gym. All classes are to be dismissed and those in charge urge a one-hundred per cent attendance. Wednesday is the day to choose 'em.

Cap'n Bud's Ro Boat to Anchor at State

Committee Plans Program For Annual Senior Ball

With the various committees for the Senior Ball getting everything in order, the dance arrangements have nearly all been made. The Ball is scheduled for Saturday, May 15, in the Gold and Red rooms of the Fairmont Hotel.

Unique decorations are promised by the committee in charge of the Ball. Special programs and favors such as State has never seen were recently ordered from Balfour's. Differing from most favors of the usual college functions, the ones selected by the committee will be equally useful to either men or women.

Bids to this function will cost $1.50 per couple. The sale is to start on May 3 in College Hall, with bids obtainable between the hours of 10 and 3 daily. Only 250 are to be offered to the student body.

Persons wishing information regarding the Ball may contact Helene Rowan, chairman of the committees, or any of the following members: N. Barbara Smith, Dolores Waters, Navarre Baggett, Marie Quartararo, Hal Delma, or Stanley Sieber.

Alpha Mu Gamma Adds Seven to Membership

A welcoming of new members will be the main business of the Alpha Mu Gamma at a special informal tea to be held April 29th in the activities room. Those eligible to become members are Lupe Ruiz, Ralph Kaiser, Melvin Johnson, Anna Walker, Steve Parodi, and Bob Cota. These people have the privilege of joining the society and those who decide to become members will be initiated at a formal ceremony at the home of Alice Denhard on the evening of May 5th. Mr. Summerville Thomson has been asked by the group to become co-sponsor of the organization.

A business meeting was held Tuesday last and plans were made for the initiation and a dinner which is being planned to honor the members who are graduating in May.

High Frosh Social Meeting Big Success

"A huge success," said Bill Ferem, High Frosh president, in speaking of the social meeting held by his class Friday, April 16, in the Activities Room.

Following a social hour spent in playing bridge refreshments were served.

According to a member of the Senior class, all four freshmen enjoyed themselves. Janitors and several members of the Gater staff were among those who were served ice cream and cake.

Refreshments Sold at Intermission
Clarence Kaul Presented
With Trophy

Plans for the forthcoming visit of Cap'n Bud's Row Boat are rapidly nearing completion. The barge will anchor at Frederic Burk auditorium on Friday evening, April 30, and will be open to the audience at 8:00 p.m.

Cap'n Bud will introduce the show with a prologue. From there, the variety show will continue, being divided into two acts, separated by a ten minute intermission. So that the audience may enjoy itself to the fullest, refreshments will be sold in the halls during the intermission and before and after the show.

A feature of the Row Boat performance will be the presentation of a trophy to the winner of the school song contest. Clarence Kaul has already been announced as the winner, and his song is a college hymn. The song will be sung in a special arrangement by the Jailbird's quartet and the A Cappella Choir.

Tickets are on sale from 10:00 to 2:00 daily in College Hall, and sell for 35c each. Due to the limited capacity of the auditorium, only five hundred tickets will be sold.

Assisting the chairman with arrangements are Patricia McNamara, in charge of tickets and programs; Howard Brubeck, arranging the music, and Dawn Wilson, organizing a group of usherettes.

Bud Decker will serve as interlocutor and Ed Cockrum, Vernon Reese and Hal "Monk" Delma are to act the roles of "end men".

Proceeds of the show are to go toward the financing of the Franciscan.

Varied Show Featured At Sphinx Club Dinner

Sonia Selig, president of the Sphinx Club announced that the annual dinner had by the group at the Rex Restaurant on Friday, April 16th, was a great success. Mrs. Ruth Witt-Diamant coordinated the program with her usual clever witticisms. The high point of the evening was a debate between Dr. Treutlein and Dr. Ascher on the subject—Resolved, that the State faculty should work more and get less. Dr. Treutlein defended the negative while Dr. Ascher took the affirmative.

Miss Kaufman, student of Adolph Blum, presented two interpretative dances in costumes which, according to Miss Selig, were quite appropriate for the evening. The theme of the evening was that of prosperity.

At a recent meeting, Dr. Michell spoke on public opinion and whether it was a safeguard or a menace. After her talk, the group enjoyed a brief discussion on the topic.

Lidlifter

I'll present this Lidlifter in the form of an open letter to both the editor and the Board of Publications.

Dear Policy-Forming Body:

Allow me to say that the Golden Gater has been guilty, in my humble estimation, of a gross breach of journalistic ethics in publicizing the candidates for student body offices.

First, it has not been the policy of this paper to meddle with Stater's political activities; secondly, it is a physical impossibility to give space to every candidate and this, of course, is unfair to those not given write-ups; thirdly, a more subtle but equally effective way of the journalist's helping his favorites along is by putting one publicity story in weeks before the election when it is comparatively harmless. The contender who happens to be more fortunate or favored has his publicity printed immediately before the polling week, and this gives the printed words an added potency.

It would be much more fair for the Gater to leave free publicity off its dull-enough pages. You might even take paid advertisements; you could use the money to hire more tripe-writers.

Yours truly,
HRC

Chamberlin's Tripe

What in the deuce has this lad Steve Ebert got? There's a lil dark haired frosh gal, initials D. A., who is wild to meet him . . . that's two gals that way in as many days.

A last hieing back to the A. M. S. dance, just why was Bud Glasgow chiseling on Billie Carrington with Gerry Lebrecht?

Election guff: Thick syrupy "hello, Johnny, ole boy, m' fran." Stuff that flows gooey-fashion from the aspirants to office is going over my shoe-tops and into my hair.

We would like to test the saccharinity of these candidates after election . . . just to see whether our snuggle-puffies will be as palsy-walsish after the debacle.

Take the Treasurer's race, frinstance, Minear is pulling a very super-super campaign, just as the book says . . . lots of posters, slaps on the back and stuff. Gael Muldoon, he of the broad grin and confident mien expects to pull much of the vote of the lower classes from his senior competitors. Mirande, the most reserved of the three is depending upon his enthusiastic Block "S" pals to push him in . . . whether any of their slogans mean a thing is beyond your reporter.

They tell me it isn't fair to publicize me so don't tell a soul the Tripe-writer is running.

Snickers: Cliff Worth's silly expression when he found a dainty bit of lingerie in the Frederic Burk Auditorium during the rehearsal . . . Whoood lost it? Nobody'd claim it!

GLEANINGSBy Clarice

Washington State gives us a look at the prof's side of the story in this bit of verse entitled "The Professor's Lament":

There are times, in desperation,
I grow eloquent, or clown,
But loquacity or humor
Instigates a drowsy frown.
Undisturbed, they settle lower;
To repose they fairly leap;

Oh, it's very disconcerting,
But my classes always sleep.
I have vainly sought devices
Their alertness to increase,
But it seems these all contribute
To an air of restful peace.
Now, old Morpheus is artful
And to curious spots will creep,
But I'll never cease to wonder
Why my classes always sleep.

U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye says: "I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

Gerald P. Nye

HON. GERALD P. NYE
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

A torn ligament, the curse of all athletes, has benched one of State's most colorful sportsmen for the rest of his college career. Joe Lee, known by his fellow teammates as China Joe, in his senior year at State, is the lad that has suffered the untimely setback.

Joe was one of four men to really make State's first baseball team. Joe was playing his last year and was to have received his blanket at the end of the coming diamond season, maybe he still will, he certainly deserves it for the inspiration that he has been and still is to the most successful sport at State.

Along with Kenny Wilkes, George Bogdanoff, and Frank Regan, Lee started what has turned out to be a great baseball squad at this college. With the exception of Regan, the fellows have played together for four years, and this was to be their last, but old man injury just had to mess things up.

Joe, who isn't much taller than a dwarf, but is as fast as lightning both mentally and physically, also was a member of Slip Mirande's jayvee cagers this winter, and little Joe was one of the stars in that sport.

While we are giving out orchids, and while we are on the subject of baseball, there is another person that should be brought into the limelight.

We refer to Mrs. Hal Harden, "First Lady of State Sports." Game after game Mrs. Harden is present, sitting somewhat uncomfortably on some bench or saw horse on the sidelines, cheering the Gater nine on to victory.

Mrs. H. has yet to miss an important game this year. Even during the practice contests she would brave a windy or cold afternoon just to support "her boys". Hats off to you, Mrs. Harden, "First Lady of State Sports".

Twenty-eight consecutive victories without ever having lost a match, that is the tremendous record compiled by Ronnie English, State's all-time number one man of the tennis courts. Last Saturday "Blond Bitsy" closed his college career with an easy straight set win to complete a four year streak of undefeated tennis.

Probably no one will ever achieve such a remarkable record in sports while competing for the Purple and Gold. This almost unbelievable performance is really far more stupendous than one can imagine at first sight. During his play as the Gater's ranking racquet wielder Ronnie met the best there was to offer from such colleges as San Francisco University, Santa Clara, St. Mary's, San Jose State, San Francisco Junior College, and various other colleges in the bay region.

Gone, but never forgotten, that is the story of State's own Ronnie English.

For the benefit of those who have not bothered to keep track of the achievements of these squads, a list of scores of all the matches and games played thus far this season are being printed.

Doubleheader Slated For Roberts Stadium Tomorrow

With the baseball season only one week from the finish line, State engages in its first and only doubleheader of the year tomorrow when it tackles Albany High School in the morning and the California Aggies in the afternoon; both games are slated for Roberts Field.

The pre-noon contest is slated for nothing more than a warm up, but the post lunch encounter will prove to be a real tussle.

Coach Harden will probably start his reserves against the prepsters. It appears as though it will be the last time this year that they will get a chance to compete. The regular starting lineup will function against the Mustangs.

Owen Jones looks to be the starting hurler, with George Bogdanoff and Ru Stone ready to help out if needed. Almost anyone is liable to start on the mound in the opener, Harden may take a chance with Manager Schutz, but he'd probably be worried to death with the left-hander in there.

Bill Abbey has been sick during the past week, having already lost ten pounds, but Gassey can be counted on for his quota of hits to run his hitting streak to fifteen straight. Bowers, through his terrific hitting last week is now batting better than .400, but Hal Wood is in a slump. Kenny Wilkes, closing his college career, looks ready for his biggest day both in the field and at bat.

Gridiron Warriors Open Tough Spring Practice

A whistle, green grass, a darting back, goal posts—ah, Spring—and football!! Coach Dan Farmer is taking the shoulder pads off the coat hangers. Spring football practice is here. Raccoon coats, pop bottles, peanuts, Indian blankets and reserved seats are a problem of the future. The problem at present is to develop the rugged - athletically - inclined - individuals who are enclosed within Buchanan, Haight, Waller and Laguna (that is, who attend State) into a rugged clicking clan of clashing cougar meat—a football team.

Don't lock up your coat, peanut, bottle and blanket and throw away the key for there's going to be a real team in our N. Y. A. Bowl next fall. Football's in the air again and the little huddles from the Co-op are turning into concrete huddles on our spring practice gridiron. There will be squad teams and a real game before the session is over. So, grab a seat or a purple and gold jersey. Farmer wants everyone in on this.

Low Senior Class Plans Meeting-Party at Grove

On Friday, May 7, the Low Senior Class plans to hold a combined class meeting and party at Sigmund Stern Grove. Wienes and coffee will be served free to class members, 15c being charged to outsiders.

Members of the class who wish to make reservations for the evening were asked to drop a note in Box 1186.

Part of the evening's program will be dancing and games, directed by the whole committee which includes: Alice Mitchell, Charles Martin, Marie Quarteraro, Elaine Twoney, and Blanche Tovey.

"Athletic fans up here haven't forgotten the football game of last season and I believe they are anxious to see the S. F. State perform again."

(Signed)

JAMES V. ZENO, Publicity Director, Chico State College.

The above passage was taken from a statement as given by Mr. Zeno in relation to the coming track duel between the Gaters and the Wildcats tomorrow on the Chico field. Recounting the episode of last fall, it is little wonder that Chico fans haven't forgotten the football game of last season.

The story is that the Wildcats, desiring to make an impression on the home folks, selected the Gaters as an "easy team" to do the impressing on. The move proved a boomerang as the Wildcats were lucky to get a 6-6 tie.

Such pure and clean rivalry as exists between Chico and S. F. State is too good to kill, and Coach Dave Cox will bring his troop northward Saturday with the sole idea of entering into a close battle.

If seasons' records mean anything, the meet will indeed be mighty close. An extensive survey of the respective marks practically leaves the victory hingeing on the relay race, the final event on the program. An out-and-out prediction says that the Gaters will win by a 68-63 margin.

The Wildcats have plenty of power in the hurdles, sprints, and field events—all trials in which the Gaters have a little of their stuff on the ball. Daryl Hopkins, local ace, will have trouble with Benny Reams, former Sacramento J. C. star, in the timber-topping events, while the sprints are conceded to the Chico gallopers.

However, it is in the distance races which the Golden Tide will really roll. Stan Kuder, Biff Shreeve, Bob Cota, and Fred Kline are picked to smother the Wildcats in the 880, mile and 2-mile trials.

In the weight-tossing events, Stan Ebert, Eric Pantages, and Dick Hurst will have a little trouble with Ivan Campbell, a consistent winner in the shot-put, discus, and javelin throw. However, the Gaters should break even in these and the sprints to come out on top.

Laugesen Lays Plans For Low Junior Swim Party

Plans for a gigantic swimming party to be held at the Fairmont Plunge on May 5 have been completed by the Low Junior Class. President Laugesen has announced that a special rate of twenty cents will prevail for the members of the Low Junior group. Open to the entire student body the committee in charge including Carola Beetz, Bob Chamberlain, Ruth Bradley, J. W. Gallagher have arranged a night of water festivities lasting from 7 until 10 o'clock. Laugesen is endeavoring to secure the services of some outstanding exhibition divers to perform for the group.

Student body members of other than the Low Junior Class will pay the usual pool fee of thirty-five cents. At this price students are expected to bring their own suits.

At a meeting held last Monday by the entertainment committee, a donation of five dollars was made to Roberts Field fund. Also discussed was the idea of a party at Sigmund Stern Lodge. However it is extremely improbable if an affair of this kind will be given because of the over-abundance of dates now on the student body social calendar. Laugesen was well pleased with reports concerning the recent low Junior Noon dance.

Regarding the coming swim party, the Low Juniors hope to set the precedent in aquatic festivities. With the coming of summer, class activities will be suspended and next semester will see the Junior Classes concentrating on the year's outstanding social event—the Junior Prom.
